

Master of Arts in International Economics and Finance

Become an Expert

The Master of Arts in International Economics and Finance (MIEF) is a cohort-based degree program delivered at the Washington, DC campus that provides an integrated educational experience through intensive classroom instruction and research interaction.

Recognized as a STEM-designated degree program, the curriculum enables you to understand advanced economic theories, master professional quantitative and econometric skills, and analyze a wide range of international economics and financial questions.

Term	Courses	Duration
Summer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> › Advanced Macroeconomics › Advanced Microeconomics › Quantitative Methods I 	6 weeks
Fall	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> › Quantitative Methods II › International Finance › International Trade › Economics Elective › Economics Elective 	14 weeks
January Intersession	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> › Applied Research Project › Skills Workshops (2) 	2 weeks
Spring	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> › Quantitative Methods III › Pick one: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Cross-Sectional and Panel Data Econometrics • Empirical Economic Forecasting and Modeling • Macro and Financial Time Series Econometrics › Economics Elective › Economics Elective › Economics Elective 	14 weeks
Capstone	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> › Policy Research Project 	Spring plus additional 4 weeks

Learn From the Best

Study with world-class experts who are renowned for their scholarship, influence, and networks.

Our faculty have close relationships with economic and financial experts around the world, presenting additional opportunities for intellectual collaboration and the professional advancement of students.

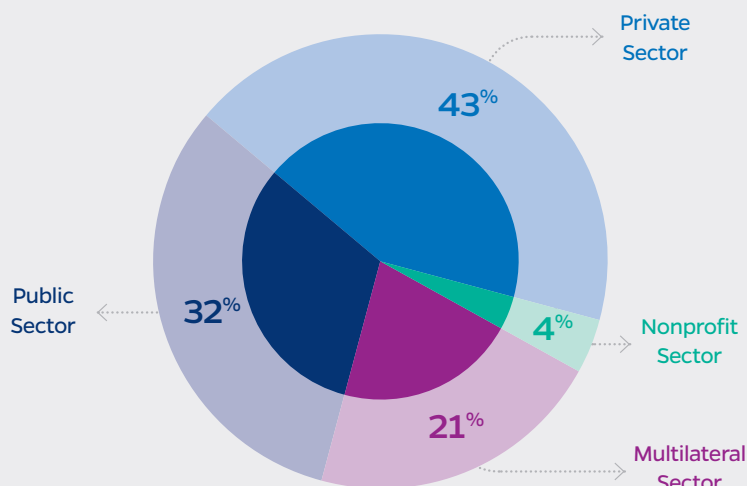

Sample Electives

› Advanced International Macroeconomics › Advanced Topics in Trade Theory › Business Strategies for Global Financial Institutions › Cost-Benefit Analysis › Credit Markets and Credit Risk › Central Banking for Emerging Markets › Economic Development › Financial Decision-Making › Global Risk Management and Valuation › Impact Evaluation in Development › International Economic Policy › International Financial Organizations: Institutions and Analytical Methods › Project Finance › Quantitative Global Economics › Sustainable Finance and Impact Investing › The Modern Financial System: Money, Banking, and Beyond

For more about the curriculum, visit sais.jhu.edu/mief.

Advance Your Career

From consultants to entrepreneurs, leaders of nongovernmental organizations to policymakers, Johns Hopkins SAIS graduates put their degrees to work.

100%

of MIEF graduates in the Class of 2021 were employed, were pursuing fellowships, internships, or further study within six months of graduation, despite the global pandemic.*

Select Employers

Private Sector

- > Capital One
- > Ernst & Young
- > Goldman Sachs
- > Guotai Junan Securities
- > Kroll
- > Morgan Stanley
- > Promontory Financial Group
- > Putnam Associates

Public Sector

- > Bank of Japan
- > U.S. Department of State
- > U.S. Department of the Treasury

Nonprofit Sector

- > The Center for American Progress
- > International Monetary Fund

Multilateral Sector

- > International Monetary Fund

* Based on results of a survey of MIEF students who graduated in 2021. For more details, visit sais.jhu.edu/employment-outcomes.

Build Your Network

Join an influential alumni network of more than 20,000 professionals working across sectors in 140 countries around the world. The school is also part of the broader Johns Hopkins University community of more than 230,000 alumni.

Incoming Class Profile

Cohort Size:	66
Average Age:	24
Average Work Experience:	1 year
Countries Represented:	10
Non-US:	80%
US Minority:	4%
Male/Female:	51%/49%

GPA and Standardized Test Scores

Middle 50% Range

US GPA:	3.56
GRE Verbal:	166
GRE Quantitative:	160
GMAT Verbal:	N/A
GMAT Quantitative:	N/A
TOEFL:	108-112

Financial Aid

Explore options for financing your education including scholarships and loans at sais.jhu.edu/financial-aid.

Learn More

How to Apply

Successful candidates to the Master of Arts in International Economics and Finance program will have a strong foundation in mathematics, quantitative reasoning, and economics and will be able to demonstrate the ability to master advanced analytical and quantitative concepts.

Washington, DC
Office of Admissions
+1 (202) 663-5700
sais.dc.admissions@jhu.edu

For more details, visit sais-jhu.edu/mief

To connect with us, visit sais.jhu.edu/visit-us